A Dream to Die For

A compelling debut novel by

Nicholas Faulkner

Mike Stapleford is a successful lawyer in his mid-forties. Married to a lovely woman, he lives an enviable existence and has little to complain about. Sure, his marriage to Victoria isn't perfect, but then whose is?

Everything changes when a vivid dream forces Mike to question his own mortality and what he wants from the rest of his life. He has to face the question of what means most to him in this world and just what he wants to achieve before he dies...

A Dream To Die For is a compelling debut novel by Nicholas Faulkner. Nicholas fits in writing around his full-time job as a chartered surveyor.

"I travel a great deal on trains and most of A Dream To Die For was written on them," says Nicholas, who lives in rural Hampshire.

"A lot of my work is very legal and technical so it's great to be developing a second career as a writer – where I can completely exercise my imagination."

"A Dream To Die For is a cracking read and a real page-turner," says Splendid Media Group's Managing Director Steve Clark. "Nick has a very compelling story-telling style and is a fresh new writing talent."
